Conclusion

Coincidence or Destiny?

Coincidence? ...Yes, of course, it can be just a coincidence that I found the chipped ivory miniature wearing Jindan's 'seed-pearl earrings' in a Jaipur curio-shop when I was with Vasant, Jindan's past-life brother, Jawahar; the earrings sold at Bonhams to Davinder Toor. And just another coincidence that The Sphinx began whispering in my head when I encountered Ali in his current incarnation as a Mexican Healer. And another coincidence, when the Mexican Healer found an Arabian brass tray in Mexico that he sent to me. The brass tray the pregnant Bedouin princess was given, laden with opium, in Cairo's Citadel delivering her death. Maybe just another coincidence that the daughter of a 19th-century diplomat, while spilling tea with royal descendants wrote 'Mohammed Ali and His House', about a Bedouin princess living in a tent behind the buried-up-to-the-neck Sphinx, as being Ali's reincarnate love! Or just a coincidence that David Reyes was the mirror image of the famed David Roberts, who drew from memory his meeting with Egypt's Pasha in the very palace veranda open to clipper ships, where I was awakened in my 60th birthday gift of a past-life regression. Or that a Native American seer, without laying eyes on me, saw my childhood recurring dream, to 'Save the baby' while drowning in a past-life. ... And just another coincidence that on my 3rd day in New Delhi, India, I met young Swami Rajneesh, in his current life as a disciple of the great mystic Osho, whose past-life of Maharaja Duleep Singh, as the 2nd only acknowledged son of the Great Maharaja Ranjit Singh, was the man who he discovered he 'was born for'. Or that Osho wears a facsimile of the head-dress worn by the Great Maharaja, with an undeniable physical resemblance—and they both die at 59 years. ... Or that Swami Rajneesh's birthday was followed by one day, the death day of Osho. Or the consecutive death dates of Jindan and Ali. And the many masters lives the Sphinx showed me. ... But taken all together, the synchronicities, the resemblances, the birth and death days, then just maybe it's the Universe conspiring to awaken humanity to the truth.

Or just maybe it's Destiny!

... I've learned through my escapade that there is NO DEATH, that WE and WHO WE LOVE are ETERNAL. That we are destined to rejoin our friends and lovers, lifetime after lifetime, to overcome all obstacles, guided by an inner knowing that we can construct the enlightened future—that is our Destiny. And I've realized traveling through the libraries of time, that we live in a fearful 'Death Cult.' But if we don't die, it flips everything on its head! Instead of living for an 'afterlife,' when we know that we'll reincarnate on this sacred planet, everything is reversed. Then, we'll care about our lands, oceans, and biosphere, which took billions of years for 'The Gods' aka 'Consciousness' to create. We'll care about the health, and sanity of the human family that we'll incarnate into. Instead, we're playing Russian roulette with humanity's long-term existence. Archaeology shows us that we are not the first in history to commit civilizational suicide, choosing blindness, while being the most informed! ... Just as Orientalist Artists were the photojournalists of the 18th/19th centuries, filmmakers and authors are our history professors, and we desperately need to see and hear the stories that made the world we are culturally, emotionally and economically immersed in today!

... In the book "DEATH," the atheist philosopher Todd May says: 'If we were immortal, life loses meaning. Death offers us the opportunity to find meaning in life. But at the same time, Death renders everything in our life meaningless.' For me, it is exactly the opposite! The continuity of our lives, how our current life shapes our future lives, and humanity's future is all the more meaningful! ... If we believe in 'Eternal Life' instead of 'Eternal Death,' we will create an enlightened future life—by evolving now!

... I'm content at having cleaned the windows of my soul. Having read most of the books disparaging Jindan, even Persian-Poets-Propaganda sung in the streets, I'm confident in knowing that Jindan was not the 'Whore of Lahore'. (the same way they slandered the Rani of Jhansi fighting the British.) And that Jindan did not engineer the 1st Anglo-Sikh War, as Gov. Gen. Hardinge's letter to his wife proves, re: his arrangement with Gulab Singh. And I've learned that the author of "The Reigning Family of Lahore" was credited by the author of "Flashman & The Mountain of Light" as writing the most salacious accounts of Jindan; even though George Carmichael Smyth never had any contact with

“The Reigning Family” when his 1847 propagandist-hit piece was published, at Maj. Broadfoot’s request, seeking reasons for the British invasion. Smyth says his source was Alexander Gardner, who was at Lahore at the time. (Who: Saw more than he remembered, and remembered more than he saw!) PUBLISHED 1898, 20 YEARS AFTER GARDNER’S DEATH, Alex’s book doesn’t recount Smyth’s most lurid tales. ... Arrogantly ‘heavy-handed,’ Col. Smyth lit the spark that ignited the ‘1857 Indian Rebellion’ by marching 90 Sepoys to jail for refusing to bite cartridges greased with cow and pig fat, which was against their religion! —The rebellion was joined by the princely families, who were against the new ‘Inheritance Law Doctrines’ that were instituted by the East India Company, the same policies that disinherited Duleep’s family. ...The EIC, ruled by profit, was a ‘vulture corporation,’ empowered by the Rt. Hon. British Gov’t to institute state policy. (...not unlike today’s reality)

After 2000 years of plagiarized, fabricated religions from the Orwellian ‘Ministry of Truth,’ that have long passed their ‘sell-by’ date (the world is not 6,000-years old, etc.) I’m convinced that only the truth of reincarnation can set us free! Consciousness is fundamental to life. And although The Sphinx has not been whispering in my ear lately, I’m certain she’s been busy tweaking the ‘Field of Universal Consciousness’ while keeping close tabs on our progress... Quantum mechanics tells us that ‘awareness is faster than the speed of light’ ...that the future is open, and even the past is not fixed but is influenced by our present awareness. — So maybe ‘The Wheel of Destiny’ has gifted us this ‘True-Life-Fairytale’ with a ‘Koh-i-Noor — a Mountain of Light of Truth’ to break the curse of ignorance!...AND by our being aware that, like Prometheus, Ali gave Egypt back her fire, it will ‘Heal His Heart and Ease His Pain.’ AND by fulfilling the dying wish of India’s Greatest Maharaja, Jindan’s Soul will be released from the volumes of lies... AND just maybe, by finally knowing that WE ARE ETERNAL, having watched over us for countless millennia, to ‘AWAKEN HUMANITY FROM THE SLEEP OF THE AGES’ ... that this is our Destiny—and this is exactly what The Sphinx is after!

To: HM King Charles III and The Rt Hon. PM: Return the KOH-I-NOOR diamond to INDIA!

H.G. Wells (Past-Life Sir John Dee) wrote: “Civilization is a race between education and catastrophe. Let us learn the TRUTH and spread it far and wide—for the Truth is the greatest weapon we have.”

While never harboring ill will, and becoming their staunchest supporters, India has enriched the British people by 45 trillion £GBP. While ruled by ‘corporate raiders,’ 100 million Indians died of their famine-induced policies. In the 18th century, India’s world trade was at 30% and by 1947, after the British East India Company’s deindustrialization, it was reduced to just 4%!

The Koh-i-Noor was plundered from a 10-year-old boy by the Rt. Hon British Govt., who saw fit to obliterate his inheritance. Though worth $20 billion in today’s money, for India, the Koh-i-Noor diamond is incalculable! Clearly, the British government sanctioned Jindan’s assassination, just like what Putin did to Navalny. ...History tells us: no one who has removed the Koh-i-Noor from India has fared well!! So in the words of Prime Minister Lord Palmerston: “A thief must always be made to disgorge!” ... Regardless of Great Britain’s missteps, or positive contributions to the world, it’s post time for repatriating the Koh-i-Noor diamond to India! Your shame won’t allow any queen or consort to ever wear it—so instead of locking your shame in a tower, transform your dark past and RETURN THE KOH-I-NOOR TO INDIA! After all that’s been done, it’s the absolute least you can do!

... with our profound appreciation

Twenty Cases Suggestive of Reincarnation

... I've called my experience 'Soul-Archaeology,' and I believe that 'hearing it from the horse's mouth' is what jurors give the most credence to. But legal cases are also bolstered by 'professional opinions,' and thanks to Prof. Ian Stevenson, M.D., director of the Division of Perceptual Studies at the University of Virginia School of Medicine, there is an abundance of corroborating data. For 50 years, the Canadian-born American psychiatrist studied personality traits. And for 40 of those years, he researched cases suggestive of reincarnation—the idea that emotions, memories, and physical features can be passed on from one incarnation to the next. He documented 3,000 children who remembered their past lives. He believed that certain unusual abilities and illnesses could not be explained by environment or genetics and that reincarnation was possibly a contributing factor...Although I believe I've supplied an abundance of evidence of my soul's reincarnation, I would be remiss not to include some vignettes from Dr. Ian Stevenson's encyclopedia of cases. In his 1997 work, 'Reincarnation and Biology,' Stevenson documents wounds corresponding to memories of previous lives that are verified in medical records and birthmarks that correspond to wounds verified in medical records.

... A Turkish boy with a severely malformed ear and underdeveloped facial structure said he remembered the life of a man who was shot at point-blank range with a shotgun. He died days later...A boy in India, with stubs for fingers, said he remembered the life of a boy who had lost his fingers in a fodder-chopping machine. ... A Burmese girl missing her lower right leg said she remembered the life of a girl who was run over by a train. Eyewitnesses said the train severed the girl's right leg before running over her trunk.

... Stevenson explored unusual behavior of Burmese children who remembered lives as Japanese soldiers killed in Burma in WWII. These children displayed behavior typical in Japan, but unusual in Burma. They rejected typical longyi (sarongs) and favored Japanese trousers, belts, and boots and wanted to eat raw fish instead of spicy Burmese food...

In his 1966 'Twenty Cases Suggestive of Reincarnation,' Stevenson selected from 200 documented cases in India, Sri Lanka, Lebanon, Brazil, and the United States. The most famous being the case of 'Shanti Devi.'

... Shanti Devi was born in Delhi in 1926 with memories of her past-life. When only 4 years old, she told her parents that her real home was in Mathura, where her husband lived. She stated unequivocally that she was married and had died ten days after giving birth. She used words from the Mathura dialect and said her merchant husband's name was 'Kedarnath Chaube.' The headmaster of her school located a man in Mathura named Kedar Nath who had lost his wife, Lugdi Devi, nine years earlier after giving birth to their son. Kedar traveled to Delhi pretending to be his brother, but Shanti immediately recognized him! As she knew details of Kedar Nath's life with his wife, he became convinced that Shanti was indeed the reincarnation of his wife, Lugdi Devi.

*...Another well-documented case is that of Alessandrina Samona, from Palermo, Sicily, who communicated with her mother from the 'in between' lives realm. Alessandrina died at the age of five in 1910 in Palermo, Sicily, from meningitis. Her father, Carmelo Samona, was a medical physician. 3 days after her death, she came to her mother Adele in a dream. Alessandrina told her mother; "Do not cry, I have not left you, only withdrawn. Look! I am going to be small like this," gesturing to her mother in the dream. "You will have to suffer again for me." After 3 days the dream recurred. Her parents went to séances wanting to learn more, and the séance they heard 3 knocks... Alessandrina told her mother that it was she who knocked in the séance. Through the medium, Alessandrina told Carmelo and Adele that after 3 months' pregnancy, she would not be able to communicate with them, as she would be too attached to matter. They were told that another soul was around them, and that Adele would soon have twins. When the twins were two and a half years old, Carmelo published a report on the noted appearance and behavioral similarities between Alessandrina 1 and 2. They were both left-handed and interested in spiritual matters. They also shared phobias of loud noises and of barbers. (Tesla believed by knowing the power of 3, one could unlock the secrets of creation.)

... Hanen Mansour was born in the 30s in Lebanon. She married Farouk Mansour when she was 20 and had two daughters, Leila and Galareh. After the 2nd birth, she was diagnosed with heart disease and told not to have more children. Despite the warning, she had a son in 1962. She tried unsuccessfully to call her daughter Leila before the heart surgery but died after the operation at 36.

... Suzanne Ghanem was born 10 days after Hanen's death. Suzanne was only 16 months old when she pulled the phone, saying, "Hello, Leila." But her parents didn't know anyone named Leila. As Suzane grew older, she told her parents that Leila was her daughter from her past life and about her husband, Farouk. By the time she was 5, Suzanne began calling Farouk, her past life husband, multiple times a day. She continued calling Farouk until she was 25 years old. Farouk accepted that Suzanne was the reincarnation of Hanen. The physical resemblance between the women was further proof.

Apart from Ian Stevenson's epic research, there are countless documented stories of reincarnation:

Twenty-one years after death, the mother returned to find her eight past-life orphaned children in 'Yesterday's Children,' the Jenny Cockell Story.

Barbro Karlen, in 'And the Wolves Howled,' was able to show her parents to her house in Amsterdam when she was Anne Frank.

In 'Soul Survivor,' a 2-year-old James Leninger had blood-curdling nightmares. "Plane on fire! Little man can't get out." His parents had to piece together their son's trauma. He was reliving his life and death as WWII pilot James Huston.

The Search for Omm Sety: a story of eternal love

“Though thou goest thou comest again.” ... Egyptian Book of the Dead

In 1907, when Dorothy Louise Eady was just 3 years old, she fell down a flight of stairs. Shortly after, their doctor carried the small corpse to her bed, pronouncing her dead. Returning with the death certificate an hour later, they found the girl playing—quite alive! Soon after the incident, she experienced a ‘recalibration’. Dorothy began having recurring dreams, crying that she ‘wanted to go home!’ ... Unable to leave their child alone, when she was 4, they took her to the British Museum. Inside the Egyptian exhibition, the child excitedly ran to the statues, kissing their feet. But when it was time to leave, the child had to be pulled kicking and screaming, “Leave me—these are my people!”... When a bit older, Dorothy was given the ‘Illustrated Children’s Encyclopedia’ and recognized the hiero-glyphs on the Rosetta Stone. ... Subsequently, a photograph in a magazine left her breathless: “This is my home! — But why is it broken—and where are the gardens?” It was the temple of Seti I at Abydos, the father of Ramses the Great.

Through her dreams and nightly visitations from spirits of that past-life, she relived her life as Bentreshyt, an orphan girl raised as a priestess of Isis in the Abydos temple, where she performed the bread and wine ritual ceremonies of ‘The Passion’ and ‘Resurrection of Osiris.’ At 14, Bentreshyt attracted the Pharaoh Seti I. They became lovers—forbidden for an Isis virgin priestess. When the high priest noticed her ‘motherly condition,’ he beat her to confess—but not wanting to expose her true love, the Pharaoh Seti, Bentreshyt committed suicide. When Seti returned to Abydos, he was heartbroken.

A misfit in Edwardian English schools, at ten years Dorothy would sneak off to the British Museum, where she met none other than Sir E.A. Wallis Budge, who had noticed her many visits and asked why she wasn't at school. Dorothy said they didn't teach what she was interested in. "What might that be?" asked Budge. "Egyptian hieroglyphs," she replied. Thus began their long relationship. Her rapid mastery of the ancient texts amazed Budge, which she admitted she had known long ago and, with his help, was just remembering.

When Dorothy was 27 years old, working at an Egyptian magazine in London, she met an Egyptian student, her future husband, Emam Abdel Meguid. While living in Cairo, their son was born, who she named Seti. The custom in Egypt is to call the mother by her first son's name, so she's been known ever since as 'Omm Sety.' ... After separating from her husband, who went to teach in Iraq, she became the first woman to be employed by the Egyptian Department of Antiquities, under Selim Hassan, who gives thanks to her in his multi-volume magnum opus, for her drawings, editing, and proof-reading. At 52 years old, she moved to Abydos, working for Ahmed Fakhry's 'Pyramid Research Project,' where she was able to identify the location of where ancient murals and gardens had been, and that excavations later proved true! ... And when Seti I visited Dorothy's dreams, he told her she was being tested and that the sins of Bentryshyt were being removed by the 'wheel of fate.'

... Thin, frail, and determined to live her life out near her beloved Abydos temple, she lived in mud-brick dwellings, supporting herself on her pension of $30 a month. Dorothy 'Omm Sety' Eady died April 21, 1981, at 77 years, in Abydos, Egypt.

Known and respected by the world's top Egyptologists, "If Omm Sety were still here, I'd take her word any day, where things could be found, over the state-of-the-art equipment out there."

Coincidentally, John Anthony West (past-life Wallis Budge) wrote, "Omm Sety knew things she could not have known without the extension of consciousness. If not true—how could Eady have known about these obscure ancient Egyptian facts?"*

Cosmic Consciousness

‘Reincarnation is to Consciousness as Einstein’s theory is to $E=mc^2$, it may change in form, but it can never be destroyed!’ The Soul Genome - Paul Von Ward
‘I regard Consciousness as fundamental. I regard matter as derivative from Consciousness.’ Max Planck founder of Quantum Physics

These theorems illustrate that The Sphinx whisperings (as ‘far-out’ as it appears) — are in alignment with the deep research into spiritualism by N. Riley Heagerty, of disembodied entities and ‘Voice to Voice’ communications through 19th-20th c. Mediums:

N. Riley Heagerty has been researching Historic Spiritualism and Mediumship since 1986, concentrating on the physical phenomena attending the great mediums who manifested their gifts within what he refers to as “Century of Wonders” — 1848 to 1958. “That century produced mind-staggering manifestations witnessed on numerous occasions by individuals whose integrity it would be an insult to question. We have been given countless instances of positive proof, of not only life after death, but DIRECT COMMUNICATION BY SPIRITS...

It is also a sad fact that the world, in general, is woefully unaware of these titanic events which, if understood, would change the course of human thinking.”

As editor of: ‘The French Revelation: Voice to Voice conversations with the living dead’, Heagerty introduces famed N.Y. attorney Edward C. Randall (1860-1935), who was hired to expose as a fraud ‘voice medium’ Emily S. French (1830-1912), but was completely convinced she was genuine! Randall published several books on Metaphysics: Research in Metaphysics (1906), The Future of Man (1908), Psychic

Truths Told in the Afterlife (1914), The Dead Have Never Died (1917), Frontiers of the Afterlife (1922), The Living Dead and Direct Voice (1926), An Hour in the Afterlife (1931) ...On the cover of The Dead Never Died: "There is no death; there are no dead"

I have heard other voices — voices of those the world calls dead — on more than seven hundred nights, covering a period of twenty-two years, aided by a wonderful psychic. I talk with those in the afterlife. They used their own vocal organs just as I did.... Also, the place inhabited by these so-called dead is as material as this earth, and, given the right conditions, those who have gone from us can talk voice to voice with us as when in earthly life.

All this cannot be done by mere statement of conclusions. Such is human mentality, that each condition must be illustrated and explained, the principle involved must be expounded and made to appeal to one's reason, otherwise, it goes for naught. I have in many cases left the explanation of these great problems in the actual words of those who now live over the border; I have quoted their statements, describing dissolution, the place where they live and what they do to sustain and enrich themselves in their life from day to day. I will also let them tell something of the effect in that place of acts and thoughts on this one. The problem of life and death is the most vital of all that confront mankind, and the least understood. Here in the quiet of this place all the so-called dead come close. Though I possess no psychic sight or hearing, such has been my speech and acquaintance with them, that they come at the 'thought call' and hold mental speech with me. I catch their silent suggestion.

Death is unknown in nature. Change comes to the human race and man is changing day by day, but final dissolution is only another step in his progression. Those that have gone since the earth was first peopled, live on, and we who tread the earth today will live on. They now hold speech with those who still inhabit the earth plane, as we may do when we join them, if conditions are right. And as communication is perfected there will be a better understanding, a finer development, as we come to know this law.

Dissolution will mean little to me, for I know something of the reality of the afterlife and I have, in my years of work, made many friends there. I will not go as a stranger, but as one who has, by effort, gained some knowledge of conditions to be met, and many of those who reside there, whom I never knew in the physical body, I shall have the privilege of calling my friends. Nature has a purpose in all things.

What is man's purpose? We come out of the invisible, stay for a little time, and go back to the invisible; but which is the real?

How many ever give this subject the slightest consideration? What is man's conception of it, and how must he live and what must he do, to meet with self-respect the life beyond?

Out of the housing of the flesh, the inner material body emerges, though we see it not, and it is welcomed by those who have gone before. This is the second birth, so like the first, except that all the knowledge, individuality and spirituality gained in our earth life is retained, and we as a people live on in the fullness of our mentality and strength as before.

Dissolution neither adds to nor subtracts from the sum total of our knowledge. The inner material body in which we have functioned, we shall function in for all of Eternity. ... This is what I am endeavoring to explain as it has been told to me. Such is the incentive to write this book.

*Edward C. Randall
Buffalo, N.Y. 1922*

With a stenographer, EC Randall recorded the personal accounts of the disembodied beings who recollected their lives on the lower planes and their perceptions when they visited in their current forms as SPIRITS — and their new reality. In this way he attained intimate, and welcoming friendships.

WHERE IS THE AFTERLIFE? Just where do they live? Where are the boundaries? These are questions that I have some difficulty in understanding, and more in explaining, and I'm frank to admit that I have not had all the information sought on the subject. However, I have some knowledge, gained both from my friends in the spirit world and from my ability to deduce from common facts.

Let it be remembered that those in the afterlife have said that every physical thing of this earth is but a poor imitation, of what they have there — that all things exist first in the invisible before they can exist in the physical, and that all we have is a reproduction in some form of the things that exist there.

Here is what one said on the subject: "We have often told you, and I tell you now, that your earth and all things of your earth have their exact counterparts in the spirit world, just as real, just as tangible, just as substantial, to the inhabitants of this world, as the material things and forms are to the inhabitants in mortal form upon your earth."

If this be true, if we have earth and rocks, so do they; if we have shrubs and trees and growing grains and flowers, so do they; if we have houses, schools, great buildings, so do they; if we have oceans, lakes, rivers, and flowing streams, so do they; if this earth is peopled, why not theirs?... I am told that they have many things we have not, as they cannot be clothed in earth garments, nor function on our planet.

Heagerty says, ‘if he was to leave the earth tomorrow, the greatest gift he gave to humanity, was the work of the incredible medium Emily French.’ ... His deep research has given me the confidence to reveal my own discoveries of the forces from the ‘in-between’ world, as I’ve witnessed many times. Universal Consciousness is ELECTRIC! ... If Chief Crowdog can chant at will, thought-call, and THEY respond, blasting the skies with electric thunder, then ‘They really are with us—every step of the way.’

After being shown, not only by The Sphinx, but by the voices I’ve always thought of as THEM, some really ‘out-there’ revelations, ET race wars, Mars apocalypse, and more, my innate curiosity took me down so many rabbit holes, that my brains were falling out. — So I finally said, “Enough!” And then THEIR communication stopped. — But not long after, I got a recording on my ATT answering service from my Mexican gardener. ... THEY called his cell phone to connect to my telephone. He was totally freaked out! “I was made to call you—but I don’t know what’s happening!” An airy, crackly, scratchy electronic voice followed his message, which took my repeated playing to decipher, until I finally understood what THEY said: “We love you a lot!”

In 2007 there occurred what CNN called ‘The Witch’s Fire’. An electric pole fell down between the Malibu Pacific Church and the Castle of Iranian Oil Princess Lily Lawrence, igniting a fire that burned thousands of acres until reaching the Mexican border. ...It was memorable to me because a man who was building a gate for my home had been Lily’s valet. ...Now the symbolism of ‘Church and Oil Princess’ may be just a coincidence — I’m on the fence—but I know, as The French Revelation confirms, that THEY are very real, AND: “There is no death; there are no dead.”
